HACKMEN'S STRIKE ENDS AND NEW SUIT IS FILED

Carriage Owners' Association and the Hackmen's Union Come to Agreement

MEN TO BE RETAINED

Former Employes Must Apply for Positions and Wait Until Vacancies Occur

At a conference held yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Schmitz, with the Mayor acting as mediator, the hackmen's strike was brought to a close on an "open shop" basis. An agreement was signed which will be in effect until June 30, 1905. Although both sides are reticent, it is authoritatively stated that the Hackmen's Union agreed to call the strike off, the consideration being that members of the union might apply for work and would be employed as vacancies occur. Others not members of the union will be treated likewise. Present non-union men will not be discharged.

The representatives of the Carriage Owners' Association who were present at the conference included Secretary White and Messrs. Coleman, Pierce, Fagan, Kelly, Perry, Conlon, Nolan and Michelson, while the Hackmen's Union was represented by J. Coyle, M. Coffey, J. Murphy and T. Dowling.

Three conferences had been previously held without arriving at a settlement of the difficulty, the rock upon which both sides split being the "closed" shop demanded by the union and the "open" shop which the employers insisted upon. Mayor Schmitz had not given up all hope and when he saw an opportunity to bring the disputants together again he took advantage of it. Both sides appeared willing to discuss the matter once more, but without much hope of an agreement being reached.

The conference yesterday took the same turn as the previous ones and it looked as though the negotiations would again come to naught. The "open" and "closed" shop still remained the snag and the opposing factions rose up from their seats at one stage of the proceedings and said it was useless to continue the discussion, as it was apparent that no agreement could be reached. It was then that Mayor Schmitz, taking a last desperate chance, jumped from his chair and locked the door of his private office, where the meeting was held, saying:

"Now, gentlemen, you must come to some agreement," he said. "Let us talk it over again."

The Mayor's remark seemed to create a better understanding and a settlement was soon reached. The terms of agreement were not made public, the Mayor saying that it was deemed advisable not to make them known at the present time. It is understood that points favorable to both sides were agreed upon. The union men will be taken back to work and the employers agree to recognize the union in matters pertaining to the welfare of the hackmen.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SENDS MAN TO PANAMA

William Bunker Will Estimate Effect of Canal Construction on San Francisco's Commerce

William M. Bunker, representative of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at Washington, D. C., sailed yesterday for Panama on the San Jose. He expects to remain two weeks on the isthmus to make a study of commercial conditions there and the effect they may have on the trade of this port.

He will also endeavor to induce the Canal Commissioners to purchase as many supplies as possible in California. He states that a great quantity of food products and lumber in particular should be sold by San Franciscans to the thousands of men who will be employed in the construction of the immense waterway.

Bunker will sail from Panama for New York and resume his station at the national capital before the next session of Congress.

Union Stablemen Accused of Interfering With Burial of Those Who Have Passed

FUNERALS ARE STOPPED

New Suit for Injunction Is Commenced Against the Caretakers of Horses

The prolonged trouble between the Stable Owners' Association and the Hackmen's and Stablemen's unions has borne fruit in another suit for injunction, which gives promise of a fight to a finish. The Hayes Valley Stables, a corporation, wants the two unions perpetually enjoined from the commission of practically the same acts complained of in the suit of the Nevada stables against the Stablemen's Union, in which Judge Hunt rendered his notable opinion against the boycott. In this case, however, the Hackmen's Union is the defendant and the charges are still more startling, in that the union men are accused with interfering with funerals in order to disturb non-union hack drivers. The case has been assigned to Judge Hunt for hearing, but the day of trial has not been set.

The title of the case is the Hayes Valley Stables, a corporation, against the Hackmen's Union, Local No. 224, M. W. Coffey, J. Dowling, W. M. White and Pete Sherman; the Stablemen's Union, Local No. 8760, T. F. Finn, T. J. White, C. P. Monroe, Chris Reynolds, John Doe Cooper, Tom Hannon and Tim McGraw. The Hayes Valley stables are at 538-544 Hayes street. It is alleged in the complaint that on or about April 27 representatives of the Stablemen's Union called upon the manager and informed him that he must sign a contract with the union to the effect that none but union men should be employed, fixing the schedule of wages, limiting the work to be assigned to one man, prescribing a twelve-hour day and the pay for overtime and other matters, in accordance with the union rules. He was warned that if the contract was not signed the union would order a strike.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

The complaint continues that upon the refusal of the plaintiff to enter into the contract, and "in order to coerce plaintiff to subject its business to the control of said Stablemen's Union," a boycott was declared upon the place. On April 27 the union men were ordered to quit work. Since the strike the plaintiff has been and now is employing non-union stablemen and hackmen.

It is charged that the unions conspired to impede the plaintiff in its business, and by threats, intimidations and assaults on employees who took the places of the strikers attempted to force them to quit their service.

The stable has made contracts with certain of its employees who took the places of the strikers to work for a definite period, and expects to make other such contracts with other persons. It is charged that the two unions have conspired to force or induce the new employees to break their contracts. It is also charged that the unions have placed pickets in front of the stables who have waylaid and continue to waylay and threaten the non-union men.

The complaint declares that representatives of the unions have gone to customers and patrons of the plaintiff and requested and demanded that they remove their horses and vehicles from the stable under threat and notice of a boycott. Among the persons so approached are named West, Elliott & Gordon and the Board of Public Works.

PICKETS ARE BOTHERSOME.

It is declared that the pickets, who gather in large numbers, call out to the public in general that the plaintiff conducts an "unfair stable" and that it is an enemy to organized labor. Some of the alleged language of the pickets is quoted, including, "if you work for this scab we will beat your brains out." "You are a band of scabs and we will get you." In furtherance of the conspiracy the unions are charged with having placed pickets in front of the grocery of West, Elliott & Gordon, declaring a boycott against the firm, which refused to remove its four teams from the stable.

It is even alleged that the union men have interfered with the plaintiff's vehicles at various funerals, and have demanded that the funerals that the persons get out of the carriages owned and driven by the plaintiff and its employees and ride in a union carriage. By reason of these acts the plaintiff is unable to accept an order for vehicles at a funeral in this city. It is alleged that the interference at funerals was by a resolution passed at a regular meeting of the Hackmen's Union.

The defendants are said to be still engaged in the acts complained of and have already damaged the plaintiff in the sum of $1000. The defendants are said to be financially irresponsible and unable to respond to a judgment for damages.

The court is asked to perpetually restrain them from committing any and all of the acts mentioned.

All Registered Voters Are requested to call and sign petition for higher liquor license at Civic Council, 29 Columbian building, 916 Market street. Open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. until September 8.

MODERN CROESUS IS TO VISIT US

General Terrazas of Mexico Contemplates an Extended Trip Through This Country

Special Dispatch to The Call.

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 27.—The wealthiest man in Mexico and one of the wealthiest in the American continent is General Luis Terrazas, Governor of the State of Chihuahua, which borders on the western and southwestern part of Texas. He has just been granted a four months' leave of absence and it is said he will make an extended visit to the United States. He will spend some time at St. Louis visiting the World's Fair. The wealth of General Terrazas is conservatively estimated at $150,000,000 gold, but it may be many millions in excess of that amount. Some of those who are in close touch with his business and financial affairs say that $200,000,000 is near the correct amount of his fortune. General Terrazas is 75 years old, but he is still full of mental and physical vigor.

General Terrazas is probably the largest individual land owner in the world. He owns in fee simple approximately 20,000,000 acres of land, which is divided into fifteen haciendas or ranches. Some of this land is in a high state of agricultural development and the remainder is well adapted for stock raising.

EMPLOYERS ARMY OF MEN.

An army of more than ten thousand men are kept constantly employed upon these ranches and towns of several thousand population are situated on the lands. The ranches are all well fenced and one thousand boundary or "fence-line" riders are kept constantly employed.

The land and livestock holdings of General Terrazas are a comparatively small part of his wealth. He owns more than five thousand residences in the city of Chihuahua, from which he derives an enormous annual rental in the aggregate. He also owns business blocks in Chihuahua and other cities of Mexico. He owns a controlling interest in all of the banks and other financial institutions of the State of Chihuahua and has many million dollars invested in manufacturing concerns in that State.

He has heavy investments in rich mines and in various other enterprises scattered throughout Mexico. The income from his various properties is so large that he finds it a difficult matter to place his rapidly accumulating millions in safe investments. It is said that he has turned his attention recently to the City of Mexico as offering a promising field for investment of his surplus millions in banking and other enterprises.

FRIENDLY TO DIAZ.

General Terrazas has served five terms as Governor of the State of Chihuahua. He was Governor of that State before President Diaz came into power. He belonged to what was known as the anti-Diaz administration party and for many years he was bitter in his opposition to the President. In later years he became a great admirer of Diaz and he has been a faithful supporter of his administration. It has been said, however, by some of the enemies of Terrazas that he could never be Governor of Chihuahua again, as President Diaz would not consent for him to be placed in that position of political trust and honor. When this report reached General Terrazas a year or more ago he determined to show his enemies that he still possessed political power. He announced himself as a candidate for Governor and to the surprise of his enemies he was given the cordial support of President Diaz. He was elected without opposition. It is said that now having had his ambition in that direction gratified, he will not again return to the office and that his temporary leave of absence will be followed by his resignation.

Hon. Enrique Creel, the multi-millionaire banker and mine operator of Chihuahua, has been appointed acting Governor of that State and he will doubtless succeed General Terrazas as constitutional Governor.
